Dr. De Voss Dies; Rites Tomorrow

Dr. James C. DeVoss, executive dean emeritus, died yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at his residence, 5336 Greenside Drive after a prolonged illness. Memorial services will be held in the First Methodist Church, 5th and Santa Clara streets, at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The family has requested that no flowers be sent. Funeral services will be private.

Perry Lists Spring Sing Judging Trio

Three top-notch persons in the music world have been chosen to judge the annual Spring Sing May 2 at 8 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium, chairman Vern Perry has announced.

They are Hugh Keller of Music Corporation of America and an SJS graduate, Otis Carrington, music writer and teacher, and Richard Gordon, choir director and teacher of music.

This year's singing event is being sponsored by Theta Chi for the Inter Fraternity Council. Perry reported that all but two of the fraternities have entered the Sing.

Perry also reported that Bob Russell will provide music before, after and during the intermissions of the show.

In an attempt to add a greater degree of showmanship to this year's Spring Sing, the vocal groups will enter and leave the stage from the wings with the curtains closed. Before this year, the groups have always come onto the platform from the audience.

A perpetual trophy, as well as trophies to the first, second and third place winners, will be presented by Robert S. Martin, associate dean of students.

Marv Braustein, an SJS graduate, will be master of ceremonies for the evening.

Anyone desiring further information should contact Perry at CY 3-9629.

Variety Show Seeking Talent

The Woman's Auxiliary of O'Connor Hospital is searching for talent from SJS to appear in "High Fever Follies," a benefit variety show, to be given at the Civic Auditorium May 22.

Twenty girls are needed to appear in a dancing chorus. Persons who have any type of an organized act are also needed, according to Mrs. Courtney Brooks, assistant professor of speech.

Jerome Cargill, a director from New York, will arrive in San Jose April 30 to cast the show and begin rehearsals.

Students interested in appearing in this show should contact Mrs. Brooks in the Speech and Drama Building, Room 110, today or tomorrow.

SJS Health Office Slates Final Shots

The third diphtheria-tetanus toxoid inoculations in a series of three will be offered tomorrow by the college health service.

Typhoid-paratyphoid inoculations will be given on three successive Fridays, May 4, 11 and 18. Immunizations will be given on the dates indicated from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 2 to 4:30 p.m. in the Health Office, Room 31.

Those who missed any of the other shots of the series should get the last one anyway, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the Health and Hygiene department.

AWS Applications

Today is the last day that applications for AWS offices may be obtained, according to Carol Carlson, publicity chairman. Those interested in running may pick up application blanks in the AWS lounge.

The candidates will be introduced at the Cat's Meow dinner, to be held May 2. The elections will be held May 3 and 4.

Dr. DeVoss, retired since October 1954, started his service at San Jose State in 1922.

He was professor of psychology and director of the bureau of research. This was followed by service as dean of the upper division, dean of professional education and executive dean.

President John T. Wahlquist issued the following statement yesterday concerning Dr. DeVoss' death:

"The college is shocked with word of the passing of Dr. James

DR. JAMES C. DE VOSS
Dean Emeritus Dies

DeVoss, executive dean emeritus. Dr. DeVoss had been associated with San Jose State College since 1922, except for periods as a visiting professor in the summer sessions of the University of California, the University of Southern California and Northwestern University. In his 32 years of devoted service to this institution he served in many capacities.

"Dr. DeVoss was a very unique person; his thoughts were his own, his love of nature was deep-seated, his joviality was marked. He was a sound man in counsel and a fine friend at all times.

"He will be missed by all, the students who loved to hear him speak, the faculty members who benefited by his counsel, the townspeople who enjoyed his fine public spirit and acclaimed him for his numerous contributions.

"The college expressed its deepest sympathy to Mrs. DeVoss. We know she has a name she can bear proudly and many happy memories to console her in her loss."

—John T. Wahlquist

Besides his wife, Dr. DeVoss leaves a daughter, Mrs. H. C. Davis.

He was born September 29, 1884 near Creighton, Nebraska. He attended school at the University of Colorado and Stanford University and taught at Kansas State Teachers College, University of California, University of Southern California and Northwestern University. He was a University Fellow at Stanford from 1918-1919.

Journalism, Advertising Seminar To Discuss 'Job Opportunities'

"Job Opportunities in Advertising" will be the topic of Frank J. Bruguere's speech today at the senior journalism and advertising seminar.

A professional ad man for almost twenty five years, Bruguere started as a space salesman for Conde Nast Magazines in New York. He then went to San Francisco and worked for the Shell Oil Company for ten years, seven of them as partner in his own shop. He has served as editor of Western Advertising Magazine for three years.

All students interested in advertising are invited to attend the informal talk, according to Dr. Leonard Hippchen, associate professor of advertising.

Following Bruguere's talk, to be held in J101 at 12:30 p.m., will be a question period.

THE ADA MAE CABRAL Spanish dancing group will provide part of the entertainment for the International Day celebration, which will be held May 4 on campus. The affair will be climaxed by a variety show and dance that evening. All students are asked to wear the costume of their native land as part of the celebration.

Native Dress To Feature International Day Fete

International Day will be observed by the SJS student body on May 4 with students asked to wear costumes of their native countries. The celebration is being sponsored by International Students Organization, according to Mrs. Dorothy Hutchings, publicity chairman.

Booths will be placed around the campus to sell food, soft drinks and articles of interest. The clubs participating in the various booths are: Hawaiian club, Circulo Castellano, Oriocci, Student Y, French Honorary Society and ISO.

Bids Go on Sale

Bids for the annual Junior Prom will go on sale today in the Outer Quad, according to Tom Bonetti, class president. The price of the bids has been set at $2 each.

The semi-formal affair will be held at Hawaiian Gardens, Saturday, May 5. It was suggested at a class meeting, held Monday, that the men wear suits, the women wear formals and that there be no corsages.

Committee Elects Barbara Dale Head Song Girl

The Rally Committee elected Barbara Dale as head song girl at a meeting yesterday afternoon for the coming year. At the same time Marsha Hodgson was elected next year's head flag girl.

Thirteen more girls were interviewed for the regular song girl positions. This brings the total number of girls who will try out for song girl to fifty. More than 35 girls were interviewed last week.

At the same meeting, the committee discussed the coming "Ugly Man" contest, which will be held during the week of May 14-19. Campus organizations will sponsor an "Ugly Man" and the organization sponsoring the winner will receive a trophy.

Jim Cottrell, chairman of the committee, revealed that next year the homecoming game will be November 3. The Spartan opponent will be Denver University.

Tomorrow the Rally Committee will discuss the forthcoming Spartan drive at its regular meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Students are asked by the College Recognition Committee to bring their activities file up to date by this afternoon, if possible.

Sheets are on file in the Activities Office. Students are selected for recognition each spring on the basis of their activity records.

Greeks, Officials Discuss Activities; Form Panel

The channeling of natural student exuberance into constructive, planned activities was agreed upon as a possible solution to prevent future occurrences similar to the incident on 11th St. Thursday night at the meeting of the college administration and Greek leaders yesterday.

The meeting was called after Thursday night's incident when more than 500 SJS students blocked 11th street with parades, bon fires and street dances and marched to President John T.

Wahlquist's house. Police broke up the marchers at that point by arresting 14 students.

It was agreed at the meeting that the Greek organizations and the administration should cooperate in planning All-Greek social activities for the students.

Jim Marks, president of Delta Upsilon, suggested that representatives of the Greek organizations meet with the personnel deans at their weekly meetings and thereby establish better communications between the administration and the groups.

GREEKS INVITED

Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students, agreed with the suggestion and invited the Inter Fraternity and the Panhellenic Councils to send representatives to the meetings.

It also was decided to create a panel to take action in the event of any future disturbances. The panel will consist of the student body president, Robert S. Martin, associate dean of students, and the presidents and vice presidents of the IFC and Panhellenic Council.

Members of the panel will be contacted by the police to help quell the disturbance and take action in a situation before the police become involved.

EDUCATION NECESSARY

Education of fraternity and sorority members as to the gravity of the repercussions of any such demonstrations was thought to be an important part of solving the problem.

President John T. Wahlquist agreed to meet with the Greek representatives once each semester in order to discuss mutual problems of the administration and the students.

Bill McCollam, IFC president, presented a formal apology to Dr. Wahlquist on behalf of the Greeks for the part fraternity and sorority members played in Thursday night's incident.

Dean Benz stated letters telling of the incident were being sent to the national offices of all the groups enlisting their cooperation in finding ways to eliminate similar action in the future. He also said no names were mentioned of any persons involved in the demonstration.

'Y' Continues Swap Shop

Miss Virginia Langfeller, executive director of the Santa Clara County Council of Camp Fire Girls, and Mr. Harold Alexander, assistant scout executive of the Santa Clara County Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will be guest speakers at this afternoon's Camp Counselor's Swap Shop at 3:30 o'clock in Room 8 of the Women's Gym, Carol Pearcy, student chairman, announced yesterday.

"You're in the Middle," will be the theme of the second in the series of Student Y-sponsored meetings set up for prospective and experienced camp counselors. The topic includes the relationships between the counselor and the camp director, the counselor and other counselors and staff members, and parents.

Students who did not register last week may still do so by paying their $1 registration fee at today's session, Miss Pearcy added.

ASB Candidates To Discuss Rally Plans at Meeting

All students planning to run in the ASB elections next week, should attend the meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Student Union. Bob Becker, chief justice of the Student Court, announced yesterday.

Becker stated that the meeting "will be of great benefit to each candidate as it will help him prepare for the candidate rally next Monday." The rally has been set for 11:15 o'clock on the lawn between the Reserve Book Room and the Speech and Drama Building.

At tomorrow's meeting, candidates will be informed of the purposes and method of operation for rally participants. He stressed the fact that all office seekers should attend.

Other matters up for discussion at the session will be the method of preparation of campaign platform and qualification data, which will be run in the Spartan Daily.

Becker and his fellow student justices made final plans for the rally and Becker reports that these plans will be presented to the Student Council when it meets today.

According to the present plan, each candidate will be introduced to the audience and the presidential nominees will be allowed five minutes in which they may present their campaign platforms.

TV Tryouts Today

Tryouts for the closed circuit TV production of "The Heart of Age," will be held today at 12:30 p.m. in SD 117. Parts are available for five men and one woman. Scripts may be obtained in the Speech and Drama Department office.

Newman Club Prepares Hayride, Square Dancing

A hayride, followed by square dancing and country music, will take place at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in Newman Hall, 79 S. 5th St., Ron Hutt, event chairman, said yesterday.

In addition, beards will be judged in two classes of competition, genuine and artificial. Cider will be served. Dress is to be western, with denim and sport shirts suggested.

Pat Kelly, decorations chairman, reported preparations for transforming Newman Hall into a barn were well under way. Decorations will include hay and wagon wheels.

Admission is 50 cents.

Music will be provided by a phonograph, in addition to performances on the guitar and other western instruments by Newman members.

Patrons for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rodrigues. He is assistant professor of engineering at State.

The hayride probably will be on a large truck, although the club is looking for a horse and wagon. The group will leave Newman Hall promptly at 7:30 p.m., according to Father John S. Duryea, Newman Club Chaplain.

"Those with heavy beards are especially invited," stated Hutt. The barn dance was scheduled under the direction of Jack Patock, program chairman.

Exhibits Spice Display

By RITA SABOL

"Good spices are a part of good cooking," is the slogan of McCormick & Co., Inc., of San Francisco. Good cooking combines the science of nutrition with the talent for proper seasoning.

"Almost since man discovered fire, cooks have used spices to give appetite appeal to foods," according to the spice company. "Many famous chefs have won their reputations largely through judicious blending of flavors. They combine nutrition with proper seasoning. The wise use of spices helps to make any meal more delightful."

The Home Economics Department is featuring a display of spices this month for seasoning foods. The assortment is attractively exhibited in the lower hall of the building.

According to Miss Maude Ashe of the Home Economics Department, these highly flavored plant products were in use in early historic times, and the spice trade probably is one of the oldest commercial ventures. At present, this trade is a world-wide industry.

The display indicates the areas of the world which currently produce the various spices in the greatest quantity. Also, it suggests how they may be used in modern cookery for appetizers, soups, meats, fish, stuffings, vegetables, sauces, cheese, salads and salad dressings, stewed fruits.

Broyles in Controversy

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Since this is Newspaper Week, we should consider newspapers. The debate between Dr. Deininger and Dr. Bentel about the nature and functions of newspapers did not result in much guidance to newspaper publishers or readers. Having a professional journalist discussing the philosophy of public information and a philosopher discussing the business of publishing does not greatly advance the understanding of the problems.

Dr. Deininger charged (as who does not?) that American newspapers print a lot that is not fit to read. Dr. Bentel replied that newspapers must be sold under competition, that newspapers print what people want and that readers are deficient in taste and values.

Both debaters seem guilty of the fallacy of composition—judging the whole group of papers either by the best or by the worst. The truth is that the American Press is very complex and varied in quality. There are many grades of newspapers and the top ones challenge even our best educated people. The poorest also have some good qualities.

Newspapers reflect the views of their owners and of their employees as well. There is censorship by public agencies, private groups, and by the newspaper industry. In time of war or other social stress censorship is rigorous. The view that newspapers must be common, predatory, and low-level in ideas and treatment because of the low quality of readership, is false; especially if we judge by the better two-thirds of the newspapers. Even poor newspapers, poor in the sense of Dr. Deininger's disputable standards, have their fine sections and deeds of public good. This is not an apology for the worst newspapers, but it is a reminder that each paper must be considered for what it is and what the American Press is not to be charged with the deficiencies of the poorest newspapers.

What a newspaper or person might aspire to is shown by the platform of the Santa Barbara NEWS-PRESS:

- (1) Keep the news clean and fair.
- (2) Play no favorites; never mix business with editorial policy.
- (3) Do not let the news columns reflect editorial comment.
- (4) Publish the news that is public property without fear or favor of friend or foe.
- (5) Accept no charity and ask no favors.
- (6) Give "value received" for every dollar you take in.
- (7) Make the paper show a profit if you can, but above profit keep it clean, fearless and fair.

PHI BETA KAPPA, I LOVE YOU!

Once there was a Chi Omega named Alfreda Pectate who was beautiful and well-formed and wore clothes of the most tasteful cut and smoked the gentlest of all cigarettes—Philip Morris, of course!—and had, in addition to these admirable qualities, a brain so massive and retentive that she used to read the Britannica just for kicks.

Alfreda had one great ambition: to be elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Consequently she was all a-dither when she heard a rumor one night that a man from the Phi Beta Kappa selection board was coming over to the Chi Omega house to interview her. Being all a-dither, Alfreda sat down and lit a Philip Morris, as she always did when she was all a-dither, for gentle Philip Morris, as wise Alfreda knew, is comfort to the troubled, balm to the beset, and a haven to the vexed. But gentle Philip Morris, as Alfreda, with her mighty intellect, was well aware, is not only a cigarette for times of stress and strain, but also the perfect accompaniment to happiness and light. For gentle Philip Morris is sunny and cheery and jolly and merry and yummy! All this Alfreda, with her giant cerebrum, knew.

By and by there came a loud, masculine knock on the door, and Alfreda, composing herself, went to answer it. "Won't you come in?" she said to the man outside. "I am Alfreda Pectate."

"And I am Ed Fester," said the man, entering with a friendly smile. Ed had found that a friendly smile was a great asset in the Venetian blind game, which happened to be Ed's game. He had nothing to do with Phi Beta Kappa; he had come over to see about a new blind for the house mother's bedroom. But, of course, Alfreda knew nothing of this.

"Do sit down," said Alfreda.

"Thanks, hey," said Ed. "But I can't stay long."

"Of course," said Alfreda and proceeded without delay to demonstrate how wide and comprehensive was her learning. "Dear," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Dear," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Is that so?" said Ed, who until this moment had believed deer had gall bladders.

"Ben Jonson," said Alfreda, "was buried in a sitting position."

"Hm," said Ed.

"Fortnight" is a contraction of 'fourteen nights,' said Alfreda.

"What do you know?" said Ed.

"Many people think it is forbidden to wash an American flag," said Alfreda. "That is not true. It is perfectly proper to wash an American flag."

"Learn something every day," said Ed.

"The smallest fish in the world," said Alfreda, "is the Panda-pygmaea, which is under a half inch when full grown."

"How come they buried that Jonson sitting up?" said Ed.

"It's terribly crowded in Westminster Abbey," said Alfreda.

"Oh," said Ed.

"Ann Boleyn had six fingers on her left hand," said Alfreda.

"Heavens to Betsy!" said Ed.

"Are there any questions you'd care to ask me?" said Alfreda.

"Just one," said Ed. "How big is your house mother's window?"

A tear ran down Alfreda's cheek. "Well, that's the way it goes," she sighed. "You work and slave and study and then they catch you on a trick question! ... Oh, well, that's life, I guess."

Forlorn and bereft, she rose and shambled to her bed and fell upon it and wept for several days. But finally she pulled herself together, and today she is with Byrd in the Antarctic.

You don't have to be a Phibate to know that Philip Morris, made by the sponsors of this column, is the gentlest, tastiest cigarette that money can buy.

Spartan Nine Trounces Visiting San Francisco

Still on their scoring rampage, the Spartan baseballers trounced the University of San Francisco, 19-2, yesterday afternoon at Municipal Stadium.

Led by Jerry Clifford who smashed out three hits and drove in five runs, the Spartans went through four Don pitchers on their spree. San Jose collected 13 hits, 12 walks, and had two hit batsmen to route the hapless San Francisco nine, who had defeated the Spartans last week.

Though it wasn't needed, Tuck Halsey pitched very stingy ball, meting out only two singles in going the route for his sixth victory of the year. He held the Bay Area team hitless except for the fifth inning when the Dons pushed across their only runs of the game.

San Jose jumped to a quick four run lead in the second inning on a walk to Chuck Reynolds, a single by Bob Borg-hesani that sent Reynolds to third and who scored on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Harry Deaths. Halsey reached first safely when shortstop Charles Myers miscued, and both he and Borg-hesani scored on Joe Winstead's long triple. Winstead finished out the inning's scoring, crossing the plate on Stan Beasley's shot to left.

The Dons didn't threaten until the fifth inning and by that time, trailed by 10 runs.

Chuck Reynolds, who earlier in the season broke the school mark by blasting out seven runs, cracked another record yesterday as he drove in his 29th run of the season. The Spartan outfielder also made a sparkling catch on a short pop fly to left.

After their initial outburst of four runs, the Spartans scored once in the third, five runs in the fourth, two in the fifth, four in the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth. San Jose batted around in the fourth and sixth innings.

Al Cerutti, Spartan regular from last year's team, returned to the lineup in the sixth inning for the first time this season. Cerutti suffered a back injury from an automobile accident that prevented him from playing earlier.

In other lineup switches, Coach Walt Williams inserted erstwhile pitchers, Jim Johnson and Hal Kolstad at second and third base respectively in the eighth inning.

Agostini May Miss Big Meet

Olympic Trials Set In Trinidad Saturday

The possibility that Fresno State's star sprinter Mike Agostini will not compete in Saturday's crucial dual track meet with San Jose State loomed today.

Spartan Coach Bud Winter reported the Trinidad Olympic trials will be held this weekend, and Fresno Coach Flint Hanner had asked the meet be rescheduled for Wednesday so that Agostini could compete in his home country's Olympic trials.

Agostini has run times of :09.4 and :20.1 for the two dashes this year and is regarded as a top candidate for an Olympic gold medal. He had planned to run for Trinidad.

Winter refused to change the meet from Saturday to Wednesday because at least seven Spartan regulars cannot participate on Wednesday due to outside work. Hanner then told Winter, Agostini would run against the Spartans even though he missed the Trinidad trials. However, pressure may force Hanner to allow Agostini to return to Trinidad.

There is a possibility Agostini could miss his country's qualifying meet and still run in the Olympics. Often times small countries allow athletes to submit performances done during the year when these runners are in foreign countries. If the performances are good enough, the athlete is automatically given an Olympic berth.

San Jose State spikemen continued to rank high among California collegians. Lang Stanley moved ahead of Mal Whitfield in the 880 with his 1:48.7 effort last Saturday against the Olympic Club. He still holds third in the 440 at :47.9.

Ed Hicks and Al Ross rank tied for fourth in the 100 and 220 respectively. Hicks has an .09.8 century, while Ross did :21.3 in the furlong Saturday. Lynn Greene hung onto third place in the javelin with a best of 217 ft. 7½ in.

Golfers To Compete In NCI Tournament

A full contingent of San Jose State golfers will step to the tee tomorrow at Pasatiempo golf course in an attempt to wrest the champion's crown from Stanford—team titlist for the past five years—in the opening round of the Northern California Intercollegiate tournament.

The Spartans will be represented by several top-flight shooters, including Jack Cummings, Glenn Dooley, Charlie Leider and Ernie George. If on, they could be rough.

Tomorrow's action will be twofold. The day's event will be run as a qualifying round, to determine the flight positions for the following two days of the tournament, and at the same time scores recorded will count toward team totals.

Each team will be composed of six golfers, but only the totals registered by the top four will count in the run for the championship.

SJS Coach Walt McPherson says he expects a team score of about 290 will win the title. He believes Pasatiempo is not an easy course, stretching out over approximately 6500 yards and a tough grind, especially on the back nine. Par is 71.

Following the opening day's team competition, the golfers will be split into seven flights of 16 players each. Two preliminary match play rounds will be played Friday and the semi-final and final competition will be run Saturday.

Toughest challenges to the Spartan hopes of a team title will be offered by Stanford, led by Alf Burtleson and Phil Getchell; Fresno State, paced by last year's individual champ, John McMullin, and Seattle University, whose Chuck Briggs was a semi-finalist in the 1955 NCAA tourney.

San Jose's last team crown was won in 1949, but last year they pushed the Indians all the way, losing finally by a nine stroke margin.

Badminton Tourney Will Begin Tonight

The Fifth Annual All-Campus Badminton Tournament will get underway tonight at 7 o'clock in the Women's Gym, according to Georgia Smalley, chairman of the tournament.

Men's singles will start at 7 o'clock this evening. The lineup will feature Anger vs. Hollingsworth; Hogrefe vs. Swire; Perez vs. Mitchell; and Erceg vs. Juhl. At 7:30 p.m., it will be Cutmore vs. Workley; Murphy vs. Perkins; Rabinstein vs. King; and Calderwood vs. de Lambert. At 8 p.m., Anderson will meet Topp, and Loper will face McIntyre.

In the women's doubles, which will take place at 8:30 p.m., Basich and Turner will battle Hunt and Thomas; Umland and Zingeler vs. Russo and Kirby; Kaer and Tupper vs. Rodgers and Rasmussen.
